

Time Doesn't Heal

Elmiene

I would've bet the house on it
Put your first name with my last
Maybe that house would be clean
If we didn't move so fast
I knew you were a real wild child
That's what got me early on
Even paper planes still fly
But you don't know where they go

How does it feel
To take off your shoes as you dance through the field?
How does it feel
To let down your hair as you put down your shield?
Say I moved on, but I know that's a lie
'Cause I still think about you when I'm closing my eyes
It feels real
I guess time doesn't heal

Some would spend a lifetime
Tryna find what we had
I can't pretend, but if I had the chance
I'd be all-in again
Sword and mace in my hand
Golden rays hit your hair
Always get away with this, fate's chosen you again
When does it end?

How does it feel
To take off your shoes as you dance through the field?
How does it feel
To let down your hair as you put down your shield?
Say I moved on, but I know that's a lie
'Cause I still think about you when I'm closing my eyes
It feels real
I guess time doesn't heal
