

Can't Remember Your Name

Elohim

Are you gonna save me
When I'm drowning
When I'm ten feet
Under ground and
I'm a shell of the human you see
Are you gonna judge me
When I'm flailing
Suffocating, contemplating
If this world is the right place for me

I take the drugs so my fears go away
Catch me so faded I can't see your face
What's the point of living if I can't feel a thing
What's the point of fucking
If I can't remember your name

Can't remember your name
Can't remember your name
Can't remember your name
Can't remember your name

Can't remember your name
Can't remember your name
Can't remember your name
Can't remember your name

Can't remember your name
Can't remember your name
Can't remember your name
Can't remember your name

Are you gonna blame me
When I'm sinking
Into darkness
Take my clothes off
And there's nothing but a skeleton
I'm bending over backwards
I'm an acrobat
My soul is flat
My limbs so tired
My body refuses to react

I take the drugs so my fears go away
Catch me so faded I can't see your face
What's the point of living if I can't feel a thing
What's the point of fucking
If I can't remember your name

I'm barely holding on here
I'm barely holding on
I'm barely holding on here
I'm barely holding on

Can't remember your name
Can't remember your name
Can't remember your name

Can't remember your name
Can't remember your name

Can't remember your name
Can't remember your

Can't remember your name
Can't remember your

I'm barely holding on here
