

Not Just Your Mama

Elohim

I'm getting lost in the thick of it
I stay up on accident
I can't control all of my sentiment
It keeps pumping me with oxygen

Every moment, we condone it
Like the summer empty skies
Try and open up your eyes
I can hold it, for a moment
I got nothing left to hide
Just as long as I'm alive

Somebody out there loves you, loves you, loves you
Somebody out there loves you, loves you, loves you
Somebody out there loves you, loves you, loves you
Somebody out there loves you, loves you, loves you
Not just your mama, somebody loves ya

My equilibrium is off a bit
I get dizzy with the scent of it
I scream your name for the fuck of it
This fire never gets irrelevant

Every moment, we condone it
Like the summer empty skies
Try and open up your eyes
I can mold it, for a moment
Just as long as I'm alive

Somebody out there loves you, loves you, loves you
Somebody out there loves you, loves you, loves you
Somebody out there loves you, loves you, loves you
Somebody out there loves you, loves you, loves you
Not just your mama, somebody loves ya

And even though it may be hard to see
You should know I want you to be Happy, happy, happy, happy, happy, happy, happy
Cause as long as I'm alive
Somebody loves

Somebody out there loves you, loves you, loves you
Somebody out there loves you, loves you, loves you
Somebody out there loves you, loves you, loves you
Somebody out there loves you, loves you, loves you
Not just your mama, somebody loves ya

And when you look deep inside your heart
You know you aren't really in the dark
Somebody loves you, baby
They love you with all their heart
