

Ticking Time Bomb

Elohim

Sending up a prayer to the Holy Ghost
Where are you now when we need you most?
Haven't hit the wall but we're getting close
A little more love yeah we need a dose

It all feels so wrong now
Had to write a song now
Just to calm me down now down
How can we just
Turn and look away when
Everything is breaking
I don't understand how stand how

The whole world feels like a ticking time bomb
The whole world feels like a ticking time bomb

It all feels so wrong now
Had to write a song now
Just to calm me down now down
How can we just
Turn and look away when
Everything is breaking
I don't understand how stand how

The whole world feels like a ticking time bomb
The whole world feels like a ticking time bomb

While all around us the world burns
We live in our tiny little perfect bubbles
Popping
Pray that they never ever ever pop
