

Destination

Eloy

Since ancient history
it's been a mystery
why we can't escape
from the force
of our destination

We turn another key but still we fail to see every move we make
is a part
of our destination

While you're convinced that you're the one who's in control fate has predefined

if you will reach your goal you're heading on a course that you can't change at all

Go ahead and set your spirit free find your harmony and let it be all emotions are unleashed inside your heart
Listen to your secret dreams inside

Let your deepest senses
be your guide
Trust your destiny: you're walking hand in hand
for there is no road
the road appears
which ever way you go

Too many questions cry
too many answers lie
You can't understand that you're called to your destination

The power you set free
can't break the mystery You are not aware
what you choose
is your destination

You always wonder what you'll be and who you are Secrets unexplained
life seems so bizarre. ah!
and every turn you
make your fate
calls from afar

All the times when you have doubts inside

that try stop you climbing higher disregard the whispers
in your mind
they're just lying
