

Stolen Car

Elton John

We broke the rules together
I'm guilty for the crime
You call me up at 3AM
To kill me one more time

We're dancing in slow motion
The house is set on fire
We hurt the ones we love the most
Tempted by desire

Smoke rings, tattoos, warning signs
Sink your teeth in, babe, be mine

Our love was like a stolen car
Racing down the freeway
Drinking for a new day
Wasted in an old dive bar
Nobody knew our names
Damn, those were the good days

We knew that it wouldn't last
But we did it to remember
Our love was like a stolen car
Pulled over on the freeway
'Cause it was never ours

The night knows every secret
The morning never tells
I'm not ready to leave yet
But you need somebody else

You kiss me on the forehead
As distance fills the room
Like holding on to water
You're always gone too soon

Smoke rings, tattoos, warning signs
Sink your teeth in, babe, be mine

Our love was like a stolen car
Racing down the freeway
Drinking for a new day
Wasted in an old dive bar
Nobody knew our names
Damn, those were the good days

We knew that it wouldn't last
But we did it to remember
Our love was like a stolen car
Pulled over on the freeway
'Cause it was never ours

Our love was like a stolen car
Racing down the freeway
Drinking for a new day

Well, we knew that it wouldn't last
Our love was like a stolen car
Our love was like a stolen car, yeah, yeah

It was never ours (It was never ours)
