

Rapture

Elvenking

Maleficium, bleak visions, I have cast upon your souls
For a glimpse of your tomorrows all your final bells will toll
Auspicious, divinations, by fire your fate I have foretold
By blood and dissection your misfortunes will unfold

The deeds of yesterday
Fire and death to you all
I sentence you for eternity
To rot as my enemies

(In rapture you're falling)
In rapture you are falling, you're downfalling
(In rapture you're fading)
Fade away in the mist you're wading - you are fading
In rapture you are dying, desecrated on these lands
The fading lands - oh you're all dying by my hand

Sortilegium, equilibrium, in the balance between life and death
I am governing the acts of Gods until their final breath

The sins of yesterday
Lunacies crafted in blood
I stood strong, firm to my loyalty
No flows in the plan conceived

(In rapture you're falling)
In rapture you are falling, you're downfalling
(In rapture you're fading)
Fade away in the mist you're wading - you are fading
In rapture you are dying, desecrated on these lands
These snow-white lands - kneel down to my command

In the lair of wolves you took the trail
Where the gloom is dark and the moon is pale
The choices taken, the fate foretold
You blindly followed the runes of old

You forged the hollow trunk of oak
The lair of tragic fates foretold
The runes have spoken and condemned
A red mist thickens on these lands

The deeds of yesterday
Fire and death to you all
I sentence you for eternity
To rot as my enemies

(In rapture you're falling)
In rapture you are falling, you're downfalling
(In rapture you're fading)
Fade away in the mist you're wading - you are fading
In rapture you are dying, desecrated on these lands
The fading lands - oh you're all dying by my hand

In the lair of wolves you took the trail
Where the gloom is dark and the moon is pale

You blindly followed the runes of old
