

Colourblind

Elyar Fox

I was sleeping with my heart tucked under my pillow
Looking at the world through a blacked-out window
The last one left, she broke my heart in two
A million pieces, that girl isn't you, no

You hit my heart got a boom box feeling (check it out, check it)
Knocked me out, now I'm staring at the ceiling
My colours faded
You brought them back to life
You let me in, it feel so good inside, yeah

Gimme your heart, girl I'm not gonna let go
Out of the dark gonna love you retro
My lonely days were countless
You came my way and now...

Gimme your heart, girl I'm not gonna let go
Out of the dark gonna love you retro
My lonely days were countless
I saw your face and now
There's no more black and white
For the first time, first time
Open up my eyes
And I'm not colourblind
And I'm not colourblind

Chilling in my sunset, laughing 'till the sun's out
JJ, price tag, playing in the background
I gotta feeling
Flying through the sky
That everything is gonna be just fine

Gimme your heart, girl I'm not gonna let go
Out of the dark gonna love you retro
My lonely days were countless
You came my way and now...

Gimme your heart, girl I'm not gonna let go
Out of the dark gonna love you retro
My lonely days were countless
I saw your face and now
There's no more black and white
For the first time, first time
Open up my eyes
And I'm not colourblind

Gimme your heart, girl I'm not gonna let go
Out of the dark gonna love you retro
My lonely days were countless
You came my way and now...

Gimme your heart, girl I'm not gonna let go
Out of the dark gonna love you retro
My lonely days were countless
I saw your face and now
There's no more black and white
For the first time, first time

Open up my eyes
And I'm not colourblind
And I'm not colourblind
And I'm not colourblind!
