

New York City

Elyar Fox

You said goodbye
Something was broken
I didn't even know how I felt inside
Now every night
I lay here dreamin'
About the day we met, I go back in time

And I see that even if I wanted to hide
There will be no way that I could possibly disguise
My heart's beatin' outside of my chest
'cause I fell in love back then and I'm still right now

So I'm gettin' on a plane
I'm gonna get to you
I'm gonna find a way to make it happen
'cause I left with a picture and you're so damn pretty
I'm gonna get to you in New York City
Life is not the same now that I found you
And it's keeping me awake, you're not around me
'cause we belong and I think it's a pity
You're all alone in New York City

We're on the phone
We talked for hours
It's the 'you hang up', 'no, you hang up' kind of conversation
I'm savin' up pushin' pennies
And it's lookin' up 'cause soon I will be in the sky
On the way to my baby

And I see that even if I wanted to hide
There will be no way that I could possibly disguise
My heart's beatin' outside of my chest
'cause I fell in love back then and I'm still right now

So I'm gettin' on a plane
I'm gonna get to you
I'm gonna find a way to make it happen
'cause I left with a picture and you're so damn pretty
I'm gonna get to you in New York City
Life is not the same now that I found you
And it's keepin' me awake, you're not around me
'cause we belong and I think it's a pity
You're all alone in New York City

Getting on a plane
I'm gonna find a way
'cause we belong and I think it's a pity
You're all alone, you're all alone

So I'm gettin' on a plane
I'm gonna get to you
I'm gonna find a way to make it happen
'cause I left with a picture and you're so damn pretty
I'm gonna get to you in New York City
Life is not the same now that I found you
And it's keepin' me awake, you're not around me
'cause we belong and I think it's a pity

You're all alone in New York City

Yeah, yeah, yeah

In New York City

Yeah, yeah, yeah

In New York City
