Elliott, we're leaving in like five minutes, are you ready?
What?

It's not funny, Elliott, Mom's already in a bad mood
What the fuck?

If people waste my time, will you teach me how to stop it?
Is it ever lonely living in the mosh pit?
All this fucking running, tell me that you aren't exhausted
I can't fucking sleep, it's like there's something in my closet
I see it in your eyes, will you tell me how you lost her?
Back up on your feet, it's just another year to conquer
You don't show the symptoms, you don't even falter
You just keep on running into issues like a stalker

Never what I wanted, waiting for the next thing
Seven in the morning, baby, tell me what the day brings
I just wanna party, wanna start trouble
I just wanna keep on fucking going till I block her

If people waste my time, will you teach me how to stop it?
Is it ever lonely living in the mosh pit?
All this fucking running, tell me that you aren't exhausted
I can't fucking sleep, it's like there's something in my closet

All this fucking running, tell me that you aren't exhausted
All this fucking running, tell me that you aren't exhausted
All this fucking running, tell me that you aren't exhausted
All this fucking running, tell me that you aren't exhausted

If people waste my time, will you teach me how to stop it?
Is it ever lonely living in the mosh pit?
All this fucking running, tell me that you aren't exhausted
I can't fucking sleep, it's like there's something in my closet
