

Transparent

Elysion

Here I'm sitting, one step too far
For you reaching my falling star

So I'll tough words, stop for half wounds
I wonder here, how long my words
Is this what we feel, what we have become?
Is this what we are?

Come take me back, carry me home.
And break my heart, conscious is cold
I'll mend the rain falling down
Among the teardrops I can reach
Can't see a transparent love

Come take me back, carry me home.
And break my heart, conscious is cold
I'll mend the rain falling down
Among the teardrops I can reach

Come take me back, carry me home.
And break my heart, conscious is cold
I'll mend the rain falling down
Among the teardrops I can reach
Can't see a transparent love

Here I'm sitting, one step too far
For you reaching my falling star
