

Broken

Ember Falls

All these years I've been an empty shell
Now I know my way I must go
Waiting, aching, as still as one can be
Soon we'll see as one, this I know

Final item, journey through the void
Places never been trails in time
One more step now before all this will fold
Static calls my name beyond the wall

Demons, fire, silence in the veil
Pressed in every step [?]
Embers rise

Further, deeper, devoid of worldly form
Voices fade away, echoes there
Weightless, painless, floating in a dream
Life can leave no more death must [?]