

Rising Tide

Ember Falls

We've gone a long way
We've gone a long way from home
I wish we could stay
Stay to breathe life into this
Barren soil, dear
The ship has sailed

Whatever you need, whatever you long for
Believe me, this is my song to
Show you how we could rise
Whatever it takes to sail the rising tide

We've gone a long way
We've gone a long way from home
But we've never been so far away and lost from shore
We've gone a long way
I wish we could stay
Find the reason why we're at the break of day
My blood will wash away
If we can't end the shadow play

Whatever you need, whatever you long for
Believe me, this is my song to
Show you how we could rise
Whatever it takes to sail the rising tide
Rising tide, rising tide
By your side

Cold, we're naked and torn
We are spinning in the eye of the storm
But still holding on
Cold, we're naked and torn
We are spinning in the eye of the storm
But still holding on (I'm holding on)

Whatever you need, whatever you long for
Believe me, this is my song to
Show you how we could rise
Whatever it takes to sail the rising tide
Rising tide, rising tide
By your side
