

The Enemy You Need

Ember Falls

Behind the veil
My dearest dark desires dwell
Like a poison or a smoke I can't exhale
Beyond the end
Of what society will defend
You recognize there's some of us
Who need to rely on the shadow and the shame

Never let out, never let it out your colors show
Never let your flame burn, never let your bad blood flow
'Cause I'm an animal staring down the barrel of gun
So I run

So you really are free of shame
And there isn't a single thing
Rotting your heart
Guess I will pay
I'll be your enemy
Hate me
I'll be your enemy
Get up and hate me
Your precious enemy

If I pretend
And deny my only, deny my only friend
I recognize to reconcile my blood with the world
Is a pain I simply cannot take and I choice I cannot make

Never let out, never let it out your colors show
Never let your flame burn, never let your bad blood flow
Cause I'm the enemy you need
Get up and hate me

So you really are free of shame
And there isn't a single thing
Rotting your heart
Guess I will pay

Guess you really are free of shame
And there's nothing at all to stain
The purity of your hate
I will pay
I'll be your enemy

So you really are free of shame
And there isn't a single thing
Rotting your heart
Guess I will pay

Guess you really are free of shame
And there's nothing at all to stain
The purity of your hate
I will pay
I'll be your enemy

Hate me

You fucking need me
Your precious enemy
