

It was late night on the weekend
I'm listening to this feeling
Yeah, she got me fucked up, wishing
Drinking in the kitchen with her sister's boyfriend
It was midnight when you kissed me
I told you you were too pretty to love me
Now I'm in the backyard with a cracked heart
Oh well, it all meant nothing

Angel
Why can't you stay though
Oh well, it all meant nothing
Angel
Why can't you stay though
Oh well, it all meant nothing

Oh well, it all meant nothing

Hoping you'd call me
When we make up but you're leaving
Now I got a cigarette burning
It's your fault that we're not perfect
I guess people come in seasons
Listen to the voice of freezing
On the front porch of your house
When you told me that it all meant nothing

Angel
Why can't you stay though
Oh well, it all meant nothing
Angel
Why can't you stay though
Oh well, it all meant nothing

Falling down we hit the ground
My mind's spinning 'round and 'round
I'm drowning, drowning

It was midnight when you kissed me
I told you you were too pretty to love me
Now I'm in the backyard with a cracked heart
Oh well, I guess it all meant nothing

Angel
Why can't you stay though
Oh well, it all meant nothing
Angel
Why can't you stay though
Oh well, it all meant nothing

Angel, why can't you stay
Oh well, it all meant nothing
