

Up

Embrace

Everything is hopeless, no one knows your luck
Nobody could care less, you're for giving up
And you're at the bottom, at least the falling stopped
When the drop's forgotten, the only way is up

Then I look up, and your glass ceiling
Lights up, shows the way
And I get up, and leave these feelings
I know I'm on the right way
That way is up

The stakes are getting higher, but you're the only prize
The only thing I'd die for, the title of my fight
The final burning ember, in the story of my life
If you think that I'll surrender, just look into my eyes

When I look up, it's your glass ceiling
Lights up, shows the way
And I get up, and leave these feelings
I know I'm on the right way
That way is up
The way is up
The way is up
The way is up

All of the demons that I've chased
From the red carpet to the grave
But I will never let you go because
I only see, only need, only leave one way and that is up
The way is up
The way is up
The way is up

The way is up
The way is up
The way is up
The way is up, up, up, up
The way is up
The way is up
The way is up
The way is up, up, up, up
