

Start Another Story

Emilie Autumn

Start at the beginning, finish at the end
Everything you'll tell them is true, nothing is pretend
But when you long to come running back, remember
This is now, that was then

Yesterday will find you, where you've been before
Let the past remind you what's done
Now look for something more
There's a place I can almost see before us
Never if, only when

Start another story, tell it as you go
Make a happy ending, or sad
Tell it how you know
Just remember a day gone by is never really gone
If your tale goes on
If your tales goes...