

Hate Me Too

Emily Burns

Friday night falls
Rolling into bars in the heart of Soho
Just one phone call
And I'm right back in, no I just can't say no

And I won't tell anybody where I'm going tonight
Say I drank a little much and I do my goodbyes
"I'm wasted"
But I'm not wasted
And I'll find the blue door at the end of your street
And I'll do the same knock so you know that it's me
Wait patiently

And you hold my hand in the street light
And you kiss my lips and it feels right
When you hit me hard with the goodbye
We know I'll be back again
'Cos it feels so good when you come round
Just to set me up for a breakdown
And I let you do it
You know hate you, but I hate me too
(Let you do it)
Yeah, I hate you, but I hate me
(Let you do it)
You know I hate you, but I hate me

Two weeks go by
Not a word's been said, we go back to strangers
And I'm doing just fine
I got you out my head, haven't cried in ages

But when you call me up late in the dead of the night
And you use the same lines that I hear every time
You need me
God, I'm so easy
So I find the blue door at the end of your street
And I do the same knock so you know that it's me
Wait patiently

And you hold my hand in the street light
And you kiss my lips
When you hit me hard with the goodbye
We know I'll be back again
'Cos it feels so good when you come 'round
Just to set me up for a breakdown
And I let you do it
You know hate you
But I hate me

Standing at your doorstep
Wondering why I'm here again
You know that I hate you
You know that I hate me
You won't ever love me
But tonight let's just pretend
You know that I hate you, you, you, you, you, you, you

And you hold my hand in the street light
And you kiss my lips and it feels right
When you hit me hard with the goodbye
We know I'll be back again
'Cos it feels so good when you come round
Cos it feels
Just to set me up for a breakdown
And I let you do it
Let you do
You know hate you, but I hate me too
(Let you do it)
Yeah, I hate you, but I hate me
(Let you do it)
You know I hate you, but I hate me
Yeah, I hate you, but I hate me too
(Let you do it)
You know I hate you, but I hate me too
