

Easy

Emily King

I know that times have been tough, and
Everything's changin', the world just spins around
You had a break in your heart, and
I tried to find the pieces on the ground

I was still running from feelings
Hiding from pain that I didn't know how to face
There was a comfort in you, a comfort in me
We found a hiding place

Some things are worth repeating
Somehow we lost the meaning
But we keep running back up the hill
Just to fall on down

Talk to me
This ain't the way it should be
It should be easy
Times get hard
Making it harder to see
We should be easy

They told us better slow down
Don't rush into the first arms that you find
For after every cloud there comes the blue
But you've got to take your time

But we kept goin' in circles
Running from feelings we didn't know how to feel
But you can't have a foundation with two broken pieces
We both need time to heal

Some things are worth repeating
Somehow we lost the meaning
But we keep running back up the hill
Just to fall on down

Talk to me
This ain't the way it should be
It should be easy
Times get hard
Making it harder to see
We should be easy

Oh why, oh why, oh why?
Ooh
Oh why, oh why, oh why?
Ooh

It should be easy
It should be easy
It don't have to be this hard
It should be easy
It should be easy
It don't have to be this hard

It should be easy

It should be easy
It don't have to be this hard
It should be easy
It should be easy
It should be easy
