

No More Room

Emily King

Flowers on the floor in the attic
Cigarettes in half by the window
Something in the distance eludes me
Something in a dream that I can't let go...

No more room in my life for you dear
No more room in my life for you

Each and every morning you greet me
Every night you're there by my pillow
Your departure's long overdue now
Loneliness it's time that I let you go

No more room in my life for you dear
No more room in my life for you
No more room in my life for you dear

No more room in my life for you

Drifting in the middle of an empty ocean
Waiting for the wind that will take me home
Far too long my only company has been my own

No more room in my life for you dear
No more room in my life for you
No more room in my life for you dear
No more room in my life for you

When there's no one
But inside the coldest part
Shadows cast in afternoon
I would forget all the love I knew before
But now I'm sure there's no more...
