

Jonathan

Emily Kinney

I am an artist he's my muse I shape his face color his shoes if he's a play I'll be the stage my pencil hasn't left the page since the night that we first kissed I refuse to forget the way my hair feels in his hands the cool blue love, no demands

Someday, one day he'll wanna be mine forever
Saturdays are so much better together
I was so cool and comfy traveling on my own until I met a love that felt like home named

I am a sun he's like a cloud I gotta know what he's about so I defy the laws of daylight turning down the rays
I burn bright He gets heavy he gets dark he leaves a shadow on my heart and now I'll never light the world the same without windy whispers of his name

Oh
Someday, one day when he'll be mine forever
Saturdays are so much better together
until I met a love that felt like home named
Jonathan

And I'm not gonna save it I'm just gonna let it be
And as I wander hope he wanders back to me
Now I would never push him I'm just gonna sing and play and as I wander hope he wanders my way

Someday, Jonathan
