

Once Upon A Time

Emily's Army

Once upon a time
The brainless lost their mind
They couldn't find a thing up in their head

Once upon a song
The chorus went all wrong
They couldn't find a beat to fill their drums

And I was standing on the sidewalk
Selling tie dyed shirts
They blinded the whole hour
And their shoes were filled with dirt

But there's heed filled in their thoughts
Where they're the only kings
And their thoughts are made of sorrow brought the years that they have lost

Their life is like a fairytale
Their thoughts made up a book
Reality is elevated and families still exists

Once upon a life
A man took to a knife
He couldn't find a good way to refrain

Once upon a land
A seeker led in the sand
He couldn't find an earth for everyone else

And I was standing on the sidewalk
Selling tie dyed shirts
They blinded the whole hour
And their shoes were filled with dirt

But there's heed filled in their thoughts
Where they're the only kings
And their thoughts are made of sorrow brought the years that they have lost

Their life is like a fairytale
Their thoughts made up a book
Reality is elevated and families still exists

And I was standing on the sidewalk
Selling tie dyed shirts
They blinded the whole hour
Their shoes were filled with dirt

But there's heat filled in their thoughts
When they're the only kings
And their thoughts are made of sorrow brought the years that they have lost

They're life is like a fairytale
Their thoughts made up a book
Reality is elevated and families still exists
