Ties

Emma Hewitt

I wanted to open up
Just to let you know
In the places we used to meet
Is a door not closed

And I deal with my lows and highs
The mistakes I've owned
And the ones who are a part of me
Even after they've gone

These are the hearts that were kind
These are the scars that remind us
They remind us
These are the sparks that ignite
These are the wrongs and the right loves
They're beside us
All that we lost and will find
These are the ties that will bind us

And the distance from there to here
Is an ocean blue
But I dive in the waves sometimes
And it's a perfect view

These are the hearts that were kind
These are the scars that remind us
They remind us
These are the sparks that ignite
These are the wrongs and the right loves
They're beside us
All that we lost and will find
These are the ties that will bind us

Oh we're never fading out
Oh we're never fading out

These are the hearts that were kind
These are the scars that remind us
They remind us
All that we lost and will find
These are the ties that will bind us

Oh we're never fading out
Oh we're never fading out
