

Any Less

Emmelie de Forest

I shot down and slammed the door
I need a minute for me
It may take a little more
No need to worry
We cross so many lines
Drawn on the ground I can't see
Where you begin and I'm right in the middle

You should know that no matter what will come
I'm your eyes when you're blind and had enough
I'm your home, you should know, oh

You could say the wrong things out
I really wouldn't care
Trip up, but I know under there
You're covered in gold and
I wouldn't love you any less
You could be a rolling stone
A little too naive
So cute, you make me wanna scream
You're covered in gold and
I wouldn't love you
I wouldn't love you any less

So you had a bad day
No need to hide it from me
It's all written on your face
No need to worry
Like a person no body sees
You let me under, I know the beneath
No way, not only our mistakes
Not even a little

You should know that no matter what will come
I'm your eyes when you're blind and had enough
I'm your home, you should know, oh

You could say the wrong things out
I really wouldn't care
Trip up, but I know under there
You're covered in gold and
I wouldn't love you any less
You could be a rolling stone
A little too naive
So cute, you make me wanna scream
You're covered in gold and
I wouldn't love you
I wouldn't love you any less

Never let go, no
Never let go
You could be a rolling stone
A little too naive
So cute, you make me wanna scream
I wouldn't love you

You could say the wrong things out
Trip up, but I know under there
You could be a rolling stone
A little too naive
So cute, you make me wanna scream
I wouldn't love you

I know I'll never let go
