

Call Me Ninib

Emmure

I am the Saturn God
You are all my bastard sons
Kneel before the chosen one
If I were to cut you open I'd see my blood

Where will you run to now?
When everything that you think you know changes
Where will you run to now?
When all the lights they no longer shine for you
Where will you run to now?
You're out of time, had your best years wasted
Where will you run to now?
When all the love that you thought you had faded

I am the Saturn God
You are all my bastard sons
Kneel before the chosen one
If I were to cut you open I'd see my blood

I don't need to listen to all you clones you sound the same to me
I can't stand it
Little do they know that I've been waiting here so patiently
To come grab it
Come and pay your homage but then get the fuck away from me
Fucking maggot
I'll see you never, I've got better thing to do

Where will you run to now?
When everything that you think you know changes
Where will you run to now?
When all the lights they no longer shine for you
Where will you run to now?
You're out of time, had your best years wasted
Where will you run to now?
When all the love that you thought you had faded