

The Key to Keeping the Show Fresh Is... I'm Dead

Emmure

I just wanna rub it in your fucking face and make you remember everything.

No, you were never a friend to me. Just a part in all my movies

Stabbing you dead in every scene.

And I'm not gonna stop until you realize how you made me feel.

And I swear it's all your fault. At least that's what I remember.

And I see right through you.

Jealousy pouring out your eyes.

So I ask for the great applause for this poor Capricorn.

I hope you enjoy living in my shadow.

When you signed the dotted line, did you think things would change?

I just wanna rub it in your fucking face and make you remember everything.

I, I can't help but laugh. And now we know that things will never change.
