Everytime You Leave

Emmylou Harris

Every time you leave You tear the soul from me I die a little more Each time part

I can't control my dreams
My heart can't seem to learn
To turn and lock its door
When you return

I know that you'll come back again As soon as you get blue And I know what will happen then One kiss and I'll give in to you

Every time you leave You tear the soul from me But I want to live so I'll forgive Every time you leave

Every time you leave You tear the soul from me But I want to live so I'll forgive Every time you leave
