Time Is Running Out

Emphatic

This house of pain is where I live Blood sweat and tears are all I give You'll never break me down no
never ever
A time of sacrifice you see You live to take it all from me I'll never be controlled no
never ever

Our time is running out

Our time is running out
as the beat of this heart keeps racing
the thunder before the storm and the tick of this clock keeps breaking the calm before all explodes

To understand's to walk these days and nights in shoes imprisoning me you'll never see inside no
never ever
The dancing face of jealousy the ups and downs are where you breathe Respecting all we vowed that day
never ever

Our time is running out

as the beat of this heart keeps racing
and the tick of this clock keeps breaking

Pacing
no doubt its breaking This pill we're taking to make this go away Conflict inside of chaos remaining blameless beneath the skin the abyss
