

Changes

Empire of the Sun

We go far to the early break of dawn
We wearing faces that we've never worn before, before
Pick it up, pick it up
Pick it up, pick it up
In the middle of a low light kaleidoscope
We've been listening to a heart radio for the soul, for the soul
l

Don't stop moving feel the shock within Shattered love, the love
Now don't stop moving
Don't you let them win
Shattered love, the love, now

This time we're going through changes
This time not like before
This time we're going places
Letting go, letting go
Letting go, letting go
This time we gonna embrace it
This time I'll love you more
This time we're going through changes
Letting go, letting go
Letting go, letting go

We pushing deep down far to the inner core
You and I are finding something never found before, before
Pick it up, pick it up
Pick it up, pick it up
Hear the echo of our voice in the valley bellow
We are calling your name come on and lose control, control

Don't stop moving don't you let them win
Shattered love, the love, now

This time we're going through changes
This time not like before, before
This time we're going places
Letting go, letting go
Letting go, letting go
This time we gonna embrace it
This time I'll love you more
This time we're going through changes
Letting go, letting go
Letting go, letting go
