Way to Go

Empire of the Sun

Surfing snow Are you ready for A revolution to show the way Seven whole weeks until the day

Because heartbreak's coming To bend us the wrong way Plays us, memory will change it into old things

Doesn't matter what's tripping you out, There's ways to go This is where we get Carried away enough to start again

While hearts beat It's nothing like before Dreaming is the home of the brave Future is the healing of pain

Because heartbreak's coming to bend us the wrong way Plays us, memory will change it into old things

Doesn't matter what's tripping you out, There's ways to go This is where we get Carried away enough to start again

Doesn't matter what's tripping you out, There's ways to go This is where we get Carried away enough to start again

Like a cannonball shot across the floor We have found a way through the darkest hour Like a cannonball shot across the floor We have little time for worry

Doesn't matter what's tripping you out, There's ways to go This is where we get Carried away enough to start again

Doesn't matter what's tripping you out, There's ways to go This is where we get Carried away enough to start again

Doesn't matter what's tripping you out, There's ways to go This is where we get Carried away enough to start again
