Homewrecked

Empires

Your first step feels like caving in
You're never going back again
Call out to your old friends
You're never going back again

Oh You're never going back again
Oh, You're never going back again

Your war is in your heart
You're gonna find it out again
Don't be afraid of anything
You're never going back again

Oh, You're never going back again
Oh, You're never going back again

Don't start thinking again
Don't start thinking again
Are you thinking again?

Your last step, feel it caving in
You're never going back again
Call out, to your old friends
You're never going back again

Oh You're never going back again
Oh, You're never going back again
