

Should've

Empress Of

Should've never let you close
Should've never let you close
Should've never let you close
Should've never let you close

I've got sun in my eyes
I can't see our demise
'Cause this should've been one night
Should've been one kiss
Should've been one fight
For me to see you're sick
(Me to see you're sick)
But I let myself sink

Could've never let you close
Should've never let you close
Should've never let you close
Should've never let you close
Should've never let you close
Should've never let you close
Should've never let you close
Should've never let you close

You cross lines every time
Red flags wave inline
'Cause this should've been one night
Should've been one kiss
Should've been one fight
For me to see you're sick
(Me to see you're sick)
But I let myself sink

Should've never let you close
Should've never let you close
Should've never let you close
Should've never let you close
Should've never let you close
Should've never let you close
Should've never let you close
Should've never let you close

I've got sun in my eyes
I can't see our demise
Oh, I should've never let you close
Should've never let you close
Ooh, yeah, yeah)
