

Standard

Empress Of

I've been living below the standard
With a hunger that feeds the fire
I've been eyeing your plate of diamonds
With an envy that kills the pride
See the solstice that lived before you
Wasn't easy to let die

Tell me what you see
Tell me what you see, you
Tell me what you see
Tell me what you

See in the mirror when you're feeling restless?
Do you see a man who isn't there?
Living for the sake of living
I can promise you no one cares

I've been living below the standard
While you struggle being home and bored
Am I an addict or am I a reject?
You always keep me coming back for more
See the distance becomes between us
Isn't measured by the weight of gold

Tell me what you see
Tell me what you see, you
Tell me what you see
Tell me what you

See in the mirror when you're feeling restless?
Do you see a man who isn't there?
Living for the sake of living
I can promise you no one cares

What do you see in the mirror when you're feeling restless?
Do you see a man who isn't there?
Living for the sake of living
I can promise you no one cares