The Future Needs Your Name

Empty Tremor

An higher price a new dimension to realize today everything cries the want of a proper light
spinning 'round words we are losing faith losing days hundreds of hours of pure life are spent crowning the past. the future shows all his dreams he is searching the way to his fantasy he said
can you see me can you hear me can you save me I'm sure you will be the first man that future will meet the first man that will understand that everything is in your hands
The future need your name to save the world
Hey tell me your name
Hey tell me your name
'cause I need your sweet hands
Hey tell me your name
Hey tell me your name
'cause I need your sweet hands to save the world all the things we have found realized won't be kept alive in a while memories will die Now that I'm turning back to my steps I will be there just to hold on you Hear my voice don't look back to the shades of your dark past and we'll start a new world Hear it coming through your back door I'm sure you will be
Hey tell me your name
Hey tell me your name
'cause I need your sweet hands
Hey tell me your name
Hey tell me your name
look there a new light
it's your time man
the message is the same
