

Unconditional Love

Empty Tremor

-Born from tears and blood, Called to life into this body, a miracle... Falling from above, it feels like falling from grace to animal. Incarnating in fear, I begin to see clearly: The journey has just begun...

-First breath is burning me, I scream as fire fills me. Each sound is deafening, scared by everything, Help me to open my eyes, to realize if I'm just Living an awful dream, or is this really happening... Is there a voice within answering my call? Is there a guiding light? A chance to survive this painful fight? - I am the voice inside your veins, The loving heart of every mother, I am the cure, I'll ease the pain, When you feel afraid I'll make you stronger. I'll be the voice who guides you kindly, I'll be your secret unconscious harmony. I am the seed of what will be the right measure and your belief in everything.

Everything is unknown, I will show you the way! I am not alone. I'll be there everyday! There's a light in the fog, I am given unconditional Love all around me, warmth is surrounding me.

-Where do I come from? Where shall I go? Show me the line drawn between flesh and soul. Give me a conscience! Give me a name! Teach me not to be mistaken in vain! -Hold me! To all your questions I won't reply, What you don't live is as false as a lie! All that is left to see, I will discover! -I just began to breathe, and life's hard understanding, Senses confusing me, will this ever end? When will I learn to be wise? To recognize the dark from light?

-I am the voice inside your veins, I am the blood in every father, I will protect you from the rain, I won't let pain find you with no cover. And I'll be where you'll need to find me, I'll be the very heart of melody. I am the soul of what will be the right speed and sense of rhythm in your beat.

Everything is unknown, I will show you the way! I am not alone. I'll be there everyday! There's a light in the fog, I am given unconditional Love all around me, warmth is surrounding me.

Everything is unknown, I will show you the way! But I'm not alone. I'll be there everyday! There's a light after all, I am fed with your true unconditional love Forming a light all around me, warmth is surrounding me.
