Twelve

Enbound

Reaching for the lost in time
Bleeding for the pain they feel inside
It's dark and bound

Cause all the places they have been to shines with gold
Returning, unleashing the words you told

Demons watch, as fear walk in this room
A shadow, dressed in white
Grace unfolds, makes the torture grow
The blind twelve, steps in sight

Preaching for the angels souls
Screaming for the black they feel inside
So wet, divine

Cause all the places they have been to shines with gold
Returning, unleashing the words you told

Demons watch, as fear walk in this room
A shadow, dressed in white
Grace unfolds, makes the torture grow
The blind twelve, steps in sight

In a space inside
No phantom shadows on the walls
Departing from this world, they're leaving cold traces behind
Never say too much
Never say too much
Never say what they can do

In a space inside
No phantom shadows on the walls
Departing from this world, they're leaving cold traces behind
Never say too much
Never say too much
Never say what they can do

The blind twelve, steps in sight
