

Just Like You

End of You

Time to take our lives back from the ones
Who gave us the feeling
Feeling that you don't need yourself
Stand up for something you believe in
Little precious things
That come around
They're already leaving
Tell me you're there
Say this is over

The truth will set you free
Just start believe in
It is time to get you out
And start feeling
You wanna shout it loud
But they will never set you free
You gotta do what you've been told
Or stop breathing

You've build a shrine in your temple of forgiveness
You know, it is meant to be
Just don't be careless
Little precious things
That come around
They're already leaving
Tell me you're there
Say this is over

No one seems to care no more
There's no one left to hear your call
Show the ones who fear no fall
In twilight, can you see them all?
