

Whole Again

Endless Blue

(Make me whole again, make me whole again)

I'm at your door tonight and I come to you to help me through Another nasty fight, I was right here running back to you
I know it isn't right when you feel the way I know you do, it's true
But I need someone to talk to

You say he's bad for me
Well you tell me time and time again
You think that I can't see, the teary nights, the deep pain when
You know you'll only be, the man I choose to justness and desire
You'll hold me as I cry

I'm leaving my heart, my soul in your control
I don't need to take my chances
And if you stay by my side
Please try to get me whole again

(Make me whole again, make me whole again)
How much will he take, for me to realise and finally notice you
How hard must my heart break, before beyond repair deepened by you
How many times will you accept me back into your arms, your arms
But please hold me tonight

Tell yourself this time is the last time you'll be here for me
You know deep down I'm fine
Like a big girl I can learn to be, my own best advocate
It's just easier when you fight for me, you know It's just as hard to let me go

I'm leaving my heart, my soul in your control
I don't need to take my chances
And if you stay by my side
Please try to get me whole again

I'm leaving my heart, my soul in your control
I don't need to take my chances
And if you stay by my side
Please try to get me whole again
(Make me whole again, make me whole again)

I'm leaving my heart, my soul in your control
I don't need to take my chances
And if you stay by my side
Please try to get me whole again

I'm leaving my heart, my soul in your control
I don't need to take my chances

And if you stay by my side
Please try to get me whole again
(Make me whole again, make me whole again)
