

One Thousand Years of Darkness

Enforcer

From another world of imminent evil
Come erupting red pillars of fire
All foreseen in visions of darkness
Where the gaping gates of hell
Spread the dead across the earth

All hell breaks loose

Stand by the edge of greatness
One thousand years of darkness
To live eternally

And on the verge to madness
One thousand years of darkness
We live eternally

Eternally
Eternally

It's been a long time since I can remember
And the trace of all life seems to die here
The surface of earth begins to splinter
And the vast plains of hell open up before our eyes

All hell on earth

Stand by the edge of greatness
One thousand years of darkness
To live eternally

And on the verge to madness
One thousand years of darkness
We live eternally

Eternally

From another world of imminent evil
Come erupting red pillars of fire
All foreseen in visions of darkness
Where the gaping gates of hell
Spread the dead across the earth

All hell breaks loose

Stand by the edge of greatness
One thousand years of darkness
To live eternally

And on the verge to madness
One thousand years of darkness
We live eternally
