

The End Of A Universe

Enforcer

Forlorn visage of nature
Finale of the western sun
Weeping acid rains, splendor of ruin
The weave of space time shall be undone

Ardent the ending is neigh
It approaches with punishing heat
Receive the scalding rays of obliteration
And embrace the impending defeat

To the end of a universe
A world overthrown
To the end of a universe
Into the grasp of the unknown

The end of a universe

A black flamed fire spares nobody
All atomic stains bleached pallor white
The expanding pulse of creating
To implode in an orb of firelight

To the end of a universe
A world overthrown
To the end of a universe
Into the grasp of the unknown

To the end of a universe
A world overthrown
To the end of a universe
Into the grasp of the unknown

To the end of a universe
A world overthrown
To the end of a universe
Into the grasp of the unknown
