

Love Life

Engelbert Humperdinck

Here we are once again
Caught between the battle and the bitter land
When I whisper your name it sounds just the same as goodbye
Is it so hard to see
That I haven't got a clue what you want from me
It seems the harder I try the more that I cry over you

I don't know where to turn
Do you really care
If the fling that burned isn't there

In our love life
In our love life
Why do you and I
Always find it so hard
In our love life
In our love life
Did we talk it out
Heart to heart
Did we build it up
Just to break it apart

I can give all my love
But if you don't wanna take it then it's not enough
I can be everything what you want me to be all the time
So I try one more time
It will lead or make or break this lonely heart of mine
This is so hard for me to be what you want me to be

I don't know where to turn
Do you really care
If the fling that burned isn't there

In our love life
In our love life
Why do you and I
Always find it so hard
In our love life
In our love life
Did we talk it out
Heart to heart
Did we build it up
Just to break it apart

In our love life
In our love life
Why do you and I
Always find it so hard
In our love life
In our love life
Why do you and I
Always find it so hard
In our love life
In our love life
