

Precious Love

Engelbert Humperdinck

(I love you)
(I love you)
(More than words can ever say)
(You're the one who made this world of mine)

If I knew how much I really love you
If I knew how much I really care
I'd sing it and I'd shout it again and again
To show the world this precious love of mine
Every dream begins and ends beside you
Every joy is only ours to share
I'll sing and I'll shout it again and again
To show the world this precious love of mine

My rainbow's end, I find in your dress
You satisfy my hungriness
All I can find are words to say
All of the things you mean to me

Ooh, I love you
Ooh, I care
I'll sing it and I'll shout it again and again
To show the world this precious love of mine
Oh, if I knew how much I really love you
If I knew how much I really care
I'd sing it, I'd shout it again and again
To show the world this precious love of mine
Oh, if I knew how much I really love you
If I knew how much I really care
I'd sing it and I'd shout it again and again and again
To show the world this precious love of mine
