Drive Your Car

Engineers

There are many things that I know I could say
But I'm sure we'll get by without breathing a word
There are many things that I know you will say
When the meaning of words isn't drifting away

Just drive your car right to the sea
Northern sea air's gonna set you free
Just take a walk across the sand
Then tell me things I can't understand

There's been many days when you've looked at the world
With a key in your hand and the sun in your eyes
There are many roads but the end is the same
And your destination is just drifting away

Just drive your car right to the sea
Northern sea air's gonna set you free
Just take a walk across the sand
Then tell me things I can't understand
