Song For Andy

Engineers

I thought that everything was clear nothing left to chance without a single breath you're taking pills to help you feel can't see sense in that

You keep landing on your feet Andy you've been lying back to me Andy can you live beyond your means Andy (I've seen you dying on your feet Andy) let's go our separate ways

Now I'm facing facts and now everything is clear no pattern left to patch I have nothing left you've taken everything but me you see sense in that
