

There Will Be Time

Engineers

Flights that take endless days
That won't surely end in dreams
You say you don't sleep, you always will
You know what I'm dreaming you know that so far in this dream we're laughing

One day there will be time
One way's all we have
One day this will all blow away
Try to let you know, keep you from letting go