

I Descend To Perdition

Enslavement of Beauty

We came down from a heavenly high avoiding the fall with a delinquent late night blight kissing the darkness while closing our eyes closing the curtains to extend the rhythm of night

I see the demons gleam vile opponents beyond redeeming we all hail the same new dawn and we'll keep reaping the fruits before they're sown

I remember the rose you held in your hand as virtue was raped by a vile intent we shared the late hours of a sweet lone descent your cunt spread wide to greet the demand Do you remember the rose I held in my hand?

I used to utilize these tricks to deceive as I kept pointing to the skies sneaking it up my sleeve leaving me with a counterfeit high

I caress you by the waterfall you lay naked beneath the bright blue sky and I cede to the light summer breeze seeking shelter between your thighs

I might not be the one that you were looking for and I might not be the man you should love we're tripping now baby... and I'm coming down fast, hitting an all time low

I'm coming down baby, coming down
I'm coming down baby, down, down
I'm coming down baby, coming down
I'm coming down baby, down, down

I'm coming down, coming down baby
I'm coming down, coming down
I'm coming down, coming down baby
I'm coming down, coming down with you

I analyse the current condition of my demeanour it's bewildered by the ultimate temptation I am reliving the pages of this magnificent composition it's held in weird esteem and I am quite alarmed by all these dreams

I will suppress the detest and ignore the faith curb the repulsion and the depression and the dread and the hate
I will get back up on the stage because I love you all I'll keep pouring my heart out cause this is fucking rock n roll...
