

Empty Sockets

Enterprise Earth

I don't see what they see
They see a world of love
I see a world of hate
Do you see what I see?
Do you see the blood?
Do you see your fate?

You live life with blood on your hands
At the end of the day, you kneel down and you pray
But never it washes off the stains
You blame your sins on the devil, but you're the only one to blame
You and Satan are one in the same

He exists so you can sleep at night
Say your prayers, everything will be alright
Tuck your children into bed
God will forgive every spiteful thing you've ever said

You never eat where you shit, but when you open your mouth, you're fucking full of it
You're fucking full of shit

You judge me
Take a look in the mirror
Is the image becoming clearer?
Look yourself in the eyes
Look past the barrier of lies

Do you see the devil in your eyes?
Do you see your fate?
