

Overpass

Enterprise Earth

Beneath the overpass in my dreams
I found a place where I don't feel pain
Drifting away on a dark cloud
I found a place where it doesn't rain

I tried to say goodbye
One last time
One last time
I'm sorry I got so high
Got so high
Got so high

I tried to say goodbye for the last time
But it was already too late
The only fear I have of dying
Is becoming one of your scars

I tried to say goodbye
But it was too late to get through to you
I tried to stay alive
And not become the scars that you carry with you for life

This is a premonition of my demise

In a world where time doesn't exist
I remember when I died tomorrow
I could feel your sorrow
There's no escaping this
So give me one last kiss
I know this is our destiny
You'll have our memories

Death looks over my shoulder
I'm waiting to meet my demise
Death looks over my shoulder
I'm waiting for my demise

I tried to say goodbye
But it was too late to get through to you
I tried to stay alive
And not become the scars that you carry with you for life

I tried to say goodbye
For the last time
The last time
I tried to say goodbye
For the last time
The last time

Before I fall into oblivion
For the last time
Before I fall into oblivion

I tried to say goodbye
But it was too late to get through to you
I tried to stay alive
And not become the scars that you carry with you for life

You were born to suffer (Suffer)
You were born to die, no time to say goodbye
I've been waiting for this day for far too long
I'm gonna drag you to hell where you belong

Death is only the beginning
That doesn't mean the pain is ending
Death is only the beginning
Death is only the beginning