

Bathe in transparency

Bathe in transparency
Bathe in a new existence
Pull me from this vessel that I own
Gravity is binding and unnecessary
Pull me from this vessel that I own

Floating through the clouds
Trying to remain human

I have shed so much within these four walls
Cold calm embraces me
Anxiety

Aging and eating away
The clouds will fall from the sky
A cold calm embraces me

In a war of body versus mind versus the outside
A necessary fragment of the idol

The clouds will fall from the sky
We will be whole again
And through the fragments
I crawl for a bed of light

Night after night I only aim to realign
Myself with all that I've created
Night after night I only aim to realign
Myself with all that I've created

And the world as we see it continues to burn
The darkness washes over us
And the...

The living, breathing, vibrant being
Won't stare into the light
The living, breathing, vibrant being
Can't stand to peer into the light

Bathe in transparency

Bathe in transparency
Bathe in a new existence
Pull me from this vessel that I own
