

Perpetual Miscalculations

Entheos

The vital, miscalculated steps
Further into a predetermined annihilation
Eternally rising
Eternally setting the same

I pressed the pieces
Fragile and of their own mind
More arrogantly than ever
No matter precautions nor patience
The fabricated ends, meant to unravel
And I feel nothing
Living out the most surreal moments
Onto the core of the sullen earth

Lithium sun
I must let go
One with the infinite silence
It all means so much more

Surrealistic nature
The daylight collapsing
Eyes bloated and riddled
With envy
With the weight of consciousness expanding
Not another blind eye
Not another failed attempt
Lightness comes only in passing
It's one more back into the ditch

Endless atlas
Allow the earth to shed light and consume me
Language, guide me
Allow the words to shed light and consume me

Onto the core of the sullen earth

Eternity exists only internally
This body is only a vessel

Movement, everlasting change
One with the current
Teeth grinding to the core
Subconscious destruction
The mind perpetuates
Cycles of reality

Teeth grinding to the core
Intrinsic vision
Translucent form

Aging along with this redundant dialogue
Persuasion has its own way

Of this new sun
Emerging as one

We'll be the draw between the mind and reality

Nostalgia only breeds deceit
Nothing

The vital, miscalculated steps
Further into a predetermined annihilation
Eternally rising
Eternally setting the same
I pressed the pieces
Fragile and of their own mind